TITLE: METHOD AND MEDIUM FOR COMPUTER READABLE
KEYBOARD DISPLAY INCAPABLE OF USER TERMINATION

DECLARATION OF PETER V. BOESEN, M.D.

I, Peter V. Boesen, M.D., being duly sworn depose and state the following:

1. I am the co-inventor of the above-identified patent application entitled METHOD AND MEDIUM FOR COMPUTER READABLE KEYBOARD DISPLAY INCAPABLE OF USER TERMINATION, filed August 4, 2000, and assigned Serial No. 09/632,922.
2. I am familiar with Communication Intelligence Corporation (CIC) of 275 Shoreline Drive, Redwood Shores, CA 94065.
3. In developing an information system for my medical practice, I became interested in the use of a keyboard for a pen-based application. In trying to locate a possible vendor for such a keyboard, I became aware of CIC.
4. The pen-based keyboard commercially available from CIC with which I am familiar can be minimized, maximized and moved about the user's desktop. Further, the CIC keyboard can be removed from the desktop or terminated by the user. Therefore, I do not regard it as material to the patentability of the present invention, even if considered legal prior art.
5. Attached to my declaration as Exhibit 1 is a photograph of the CIC keyboard described above. Upon information and belief, I believe this CIC keyboard was commercially available at least as early as 1996.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application, any patent issuing thereon, or any patent to which this verified statement is directed.
